Lower Valley Energy and Beartooth Electric

In November 2014 we introduced to you, our members, the concept of a management services agreement to manage Beartooth Electric Cooperative (BEC)—and in December the respective Boards of each cooperative made the agreement official. Starting in April, 2015, we will manage the Red Lodge, Montana electric cooperative.

In addition to helping BEC navigate through some short and long term power supply issues, we seek to lower their rates, which are some of the highest in the nation. BEC will remain a separate entity and maintain a separate Board of Directors during this 3 year contract.

What does LVE get out of the deal? Besides more management experience, we will be paid for the 3 year contract, over $500,000 per year. The management services fee will help us maintain the lowest cooperative electric rates in the country.

Natural Gas to Teton Village, Part 2

At the end of October last year we converted the first half of Teton Village from propane to natural gas. The conversion went smoothly and we are on schedule to convert the second half of the village on April 8th. Natural gas provides the village's large homes and hotels with a very stable, affordable option to propane.
